Medical.

Hoofland's German Bitters,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.
Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.
Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.
The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heart-burn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Plain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skilfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well-known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
PREPARED BY Dr. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.
These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,
Resulting from any Cause whatever;
PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM,
induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, etc.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.
To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.
Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Penna., writes:
Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.
"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.
"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, I can certify this from my experience of it.
Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates st.

FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL,
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.
I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver. Yours, truly,
E. D. FENDALL.

The Star and Sentinel.

A DREAM OF SUMMER.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

Bland as the morning breath of June
The southwest breezes play;
And through its haze the winter noon
Seems warm as summer's day.
The snow-plumed Angel of the North
Has dropped his icy spear;
Again the mossy earth looks forth,
Again the streams gush clear.

The fox his hill-side cave forsakes,
The muskrat leaves his nook,
The blue bird in the meadow brakes
Is singing with the brook.
"Bear up, O, Mother Nature!
Bird, breeze and streamlet free,
Our winter voices prophesy
Of summer days to thee!"

So, in those winters of the soul,
By bitter blasts and drear,
O'er swept from memory's frozen pole,
Will sunny days appear.
Reviving hope and faith, they show
The soul its living powers,
And how beneath the winter's snow
Lie gems of summer flowers!

The night is mother of the day,
The winter of the spring;
And ever upon old decay
The greenest mosses cling.
Behind the cloud the sun-light lurks,
Through showers the sun-beams fall;
For God, who loveth all His works,
Has left His hope with all.

A VISIT TO NAZARETH.

A Beautiful Picture of a Sacred Place—The View by Moonlight—The Boyhood and Manhood of Our Saviour—His Kingdom.

["Carleton's" Letter to the Boston Journal.]

NAZARETH, March 12, 1868.

APPEARANCE OF THE TOWN.

The scenery around the town of Nazareth is very much like that to be found in Vermont—rounded hills, narrow valleys, limestone rocks, sunny slopes, patches of green fields and verdant pastures. You do not see the sugar maple crowning the hill tops, nor the graceful elm in the hollows, but the dark green of the olive, and the spreading branches of the fig trees, instead. You travel on horseback, along winding paths, instead of rolling in buggies over country carriage roads. There are no cottages or farm houses, with great barns and hay stacks, along the way; no bustling towns, no click and clatter of factory machinery. Traveling from the plain of Esdraelon, climbing the hills just as we might go up from the meadows along the Connecticut, a ride of four miles brings us to a hollow among the hills. We look down into it and have a view of the town west of us, on a sunny slope of a hill, which rises four or five hundred feet above the town. The flat roofed stone houses are nestled on the hill side just as the dwellings are in many a New England village. Banish from your mind any other resemblance. There are no wide streets, no front yards filled with roses and lilacs, no trim cottages with green blinds, but stone walls, with holes for windows, heaps of mud and manure around the doors. At the bottom of the hollow are old olive trees, garden walls and hedges of prickly pear. East of the town, at the foot of the hill, is a fountain, pouring out copious streams of water through a marble slab. We pitch our tent within a stone's throw of the fountain, close by the grove of old olives, the limestone hedges cropping out along the hill side behind us, giving shelter from the cold winds sweeping down from the north.

THE FOUNTAIN.

The fountain is the only public resort of the town. Here the women and girls fill their water-jars, chat together, talk over the news, balance their jars upon the crown of the head, and walk back to their homes. Here they pound the dirt from their clothes upon the rocks; they have no scrubbing-boards, no patent washing-machines, or clothes-wringers, neither wash-tubs. The brook below the fountain is the public washing-place—the place, also, where the horses, donkeys, sheep and goats of the town slake their thirst.

There is no pleasanter village in Palestine, none where the people are more kind and courteous, none where the maidens are more beautiful; not such a beauty as you find in the West, but as widely separated from the common type among the Arabs as the Madonna of Raphael is from our conception of the witches of Mid summer Night's Dream. The population is Christian. Very pleasant it is to hear the tolling of the church bell for vespers falling on the evening air. And now let me ask your readers to climb the hillside with me, the hill north of the town, that we may have an hour for quiet reflection.

VIEW BY MOONLIGHT.

It is evening, and the sights and sounds of day are fading on the eye and ear. The moon is approaching the full, and throws a flood of light upon the hills. There are drifting clouds in the sky overhead. In the north there is a dark thunder cloud—vivid flashes of lightning playing round Lebanon and Hermon.—East of us is the rounded light of Tabor, and beyond, over the Jordan Valley, light, fleecy clouds, lined with silver and edged with gold, hovering in mid air as the cherubim and seraphim once hovered over the hills of Bethlehem. We look across the plain of Esdraelon in the south and behold Little Herman and Gilboa, while far away through the haze we trace dimly the outlines of Ebal and Gerizim; westward, clearer and more distinct, is Mount Carmel. We hear the tinkling of bells in the sheepfolds, the barking of dogs, the howl of jackalls on the hills, and the deep thunder far away. From the vale below us ascend the voices of our own muleteers, singing around their camp-fires. We behold our own white tents and those of an English party just arrived. The place, the scene, the hour, alike are soothing to body and soul, and we feel the appropriateness of the words:

> "Here in the body pent,
> Absent—afar I roam,
> But nightly pitch my moving tent,
> A day's march nearer home."

With such calming influences around us, we forget the present and go back 1868 years to behold Nazareth as it was at that time—a vale as peaceful then as now—an insignificant town, so small that the people of other towns spoke of it contemptuously, just as we sometimes speak of Slab City and Hard Scrabble. No great public thoroughfares led through the place. There was a Roman road down the sea-coast, and another from the seacoast through Sepharis in the valley five or six miles north, extending eastward to the sea of Galilee; so the tides of travel and commerce flowed past Nazareth, leaving it a small village, among the hills, without a history.

THE PARENTS OF JESUS.

Among the inhabitants we see the carpenter Joseph, using the axe, and saw, the plane and the chisel, laying wooden beams for the roofs of houses, making tables and stools; and among the maidens who fill their jars at the fountain is one named Mary, betrothed to the carpenter. She is low in station, though she has royal blood in her veins. Through all the centuries since, painters have thought of her as an ideal of perfect loveliness, purity, and truth. It is not fancy or fiction. Such a girl lived here, walked along these paths, breathed the fragrance of the flowers blooming in the garden, plucked the lily of the valley, perhaps, to adorn her hair, and strolled with her mates beneath the olives.

JESUS AS A CHILD.

But not as the place of the Annunciation—not as the home of Mary, do we think of Nazareth—but as the childhood and manhood home of Jesus Christ. We think of him as lying in Mary's arms, a child of adorable beauty. The mother's hand leads him, as she comes to the fountain to fill her pitcher. He plashes his feet in the running stream, hears the sparrows chirp, and the hum of the bees, and gathers the scarlet and purple anemones. His childhood is like our own. He has his play-hours, rambles over these hills, becomes acquainted with every locality. As the boys of America know every acre around their homes, each towering rock, each nook, each brook and tree, so he became acquainted with the places around this, his boyhood home.

The father and mother have stories for him, as our parents have for us; of his ancestry; how Abraham, the father of the nation, came down from the distant north and stopped at Shechem. From this hilltop they perchance point out to him Mount Ebal and Mount Gerizim, and the valley between them, where the patriarch first pitched his tent. They tell him the story of Joseph and show him the hill of Dotham, across the plain of Esdraelon, where the Midianites took him from his cruel brethern to be a slave in Egypt, and what came of it—a story more wonderful than any romance. As we listen to the stories of our parents of the early history of our own country—of Washington and Franklin and their compatriots, so he heard of Moses, Joshua, the first great leaders of Israel. From this hill he sees the battle ground where Barak defeated Sisera, and where Gideon, with his three hundred, put the multitude of Midianites to flight. Beyond that field he beholds the rugged mountain of Gilboa, were Saul and Jonathan were slain. On the Sabbath, in the synagogue, he chants with all the congregation the grand elegy written by his ancestor. David, on the occasion of their death:

> "The beauty of Israel is slain on the high places,
> How are the mighty fallen!"

Familiar to him is the life of the Prophet Elijah. We fancy Joseph coming up here with the child and with extended arm pointing to Carmel, the scene of sacrifice, where fire came down from Heaven and consumed the prophets of Baal. We cannot quite see the village of Shunen, where Elisha raised the widow's son, for it is round the point of Little Hermon.

HIS BOYHOOD.

We see him when twelve years old going with his parents, their neighbors and companies from surrounding villages, to Jerusalem, in the month of March, to keep the great national festival—the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving day in one—commemorative of the deliverance of the nation from slavery.—The flowers are blooming on the hills—the scarlet and purple anemones, the violets, iris, lilies and phloxes. The festival over, his parents begin their homeward journey, but the child remains, enters the temple, and gravely questions the gray-bearded and venerable men who have devoted their lives to profound study. Strange his words when reprimanded by his mother for having stayed behind. He must be about his Father's business! His father was a carpenter and he was to follow the same occupation. In the Museum at Naples we see from the exhumations of Pompeii, how rude must have been the implements of his craft.

A MECHANIC.

He becomes a mechanic, labors as many a mechanic who may read these lines labors—working from morning till night—lying down weary when the work of the day is done.—During ten of manhood's years this is his occupation. He is inured to toil. In the prime of life we see him laying aside the saw and plane, and taking a journey eastward, to the river Jordan, where his cousin John is baptizing those who have resolved to lead a new life. He goes not to repent of any evil way, but to be consecrated to a new work.

THE FOUNDER OF A KINGDOM.

He purposes to found an empire! He is not learned, but he goes to become a teacher. He walks up the path which leads across the ridge east of us, bent on such an undertaking. What in all human probability will be the result of his effort? He is poor—has very little if any money, is unknown except to his fellow townsmen. He hails from a place which is held in contempt all the country round.—Rome rules the nation. Her legions are tramping over all these hills; they garrison every town. Turbulent spirits are ripe for revolt. They will spring to arms when a great leader appears, and expect a deliverer. But this mechanic purposes to rear his throne as no other throne ever was reared—on love.—Love! Who will follow such a leader? Who will rally round his standard? Position, place, power, money, honor, distinction, bribes, ambition—these are motives which govern men. Fathom human love, measure all its capabilities, the love which one man has for another, and what will be the probable result?

He returns from the Jordan and the wilderness to his home. We see him in the synagogue on the Sabbath reading from the prophesy of Isaiah, saying "To-day this is fulfilled." The people are amazed. This is the carpenter's son! Whence his learning?—Shall one so low as he be their teacher? They rise in anger and thrust him violently out of the synagogue, with the intention of throwing him headlong down one of the ledges of this hillside. His own townsmen reject him. A poor beginning of a kingdom, this. Human eyes can discover no prospect of success.

Nazareth is no longer his home. He goes to Capernaum, on the shores of the lake, reposing among the hills a few hours' ride east of us. He begins his kingdom there by asking two fishermen, as poor as himself, to become his followers. He begins to trade, but was there ever a teacher—ever a philosopher who put forth such doctrines? His instructions are contrary to the teachings of the most learned men of the nation. He becomes a physician, goes into the towns and villages using such remedies as no other physician can use—putting clay on the eyes of a blind man—telling another to wash himself—thus restoring their sight. An officer of the Roman army has a little daughter dead; he takes her by the hand and brings her to life. The fevered, the lame, the leprous—all afflicted with disease, come and are healed. He has power even over the forces of nature, but he never uses it for selfish ends.

He informs his followers that they must have a new moral creation. What other founder of a kingdom ever began with such an idea? There is caste in the nation; society has its classes and sects, and there are bitter animosities. There are great families who have wealth and power. He is of the lowest class, and he panders to no one—cultivates no courtly friendship. He goes to Jerusalem—a carpenter, a Nazarene, has no authority—yet he enters the temple, clears it of its money-changers and dove-sellers, as if he were the chief priest or the head of the Sanhedrim. Most men having gained power, lay plans to retain it; but he leaves the temple, goes back to Capernaum alone, or attended only by the poor fishermen. Men say that he is crazy, a drunkard, a glutton. He travels over the country as a physician and teacher—some people believing that he is a good man, others declaring that he is a deceiver. He has a warm heart and quick sympathies—weeping at others' woes, never for his own. His friendships are among the poor. Other men make mistakes, but himself never. He indulges in no vain regrets.

Three years pass. He goes to Jerusalem, is seized by those whom he has not injured; all of his followers forsake him when he most needs them. He is innocent of crime, but is publicly executed as a criminal—goes to an ignominious death. To all human appearance his kingdom is at an end.

THE PROGRESSION OF THE KINGDOM.

Eighteen centuries have gone by since then, and his kingdom has been increasing the while. It is diverse from all others in that it advances by love alone, never by the sword. Here is the mystery of the ages. We re-call at this point the words of a man who has been accounted great at rearing and tearing down thrones—the words of Napoleon to Bertrand at St. Helena.

"I know them," said the dethroned monarch, "and I tell you that Jesus Christ was not a man. His birth, the history of his life, the profundity of his doctrines, his gospel, his opposition, his empire, his march across the ages and the realms—everything to me is a mystery. Here I see nothing human. Christ proved that he was the son of the Eternal by his disregard of time. All his doctrines are one and the same thing—Eternity."

The chained exile contrasts the great men of the ages—Alexander, Cæsar and himself also, with the mechanic of this obscure town, mournfully lamenting his own bitter fate.—He asks "Who will now die for me?" But men and women and children even through all the centuries have died for him who laid down his ax and plane and went out of this village past yonder mountain to consecrate himself to the work of rearing a moral realm. They have given up their lives in exile, in dungeons, on the scaffold; they have been torn limb from limb by savage beasts, cast headlong from rocky heights, endured all tortures rather than adjure their faith in Jesus Christ, who said that he was the Son of God. He either was or was not what he claimed to be. Accepting the claim we can understand why this kingdom, founded on love alone, continues and thrives, while all other kingdoms have their periods of growth and decay. Rejecting the claim, esteeming him to be only a man, and his life, his death, and what has grown out of it, is the darkest, deepest, most incomprehensible mystery of all time. Who will explain it?

CARLETON.

A TOUCHING SCENE.

I was conversing not long since with a returned volunteer.

"I was in a hospital as nurse for a long time," said he, and assisted in taking off limbs and dressing all sorts of wounds, but the harest thing I every did was to take my thumb off a man's leg."

"Ah!" said I, "how was that?"

Then he told me:

"It was a young man who had a severe wound in the thigh. The ball had passed completely through, and amputation was necessary. The limb was cut off close up to the body, the arteries taken up and he seemed to be doing well. One of the arteries sloughed off. An incision was made, and it was again taken up. "It is well it is not the main artery," said the surgeon, as he performed the operation; he might have bled to death before we could have taken it up. But Charley got on finely and was a favorite with us all. I was passing through the ward one night about midnight, when suddenly, as I was passing Charley's bed, he spoke to me, saying, "H—— my leg is bleeding again." I threw back the bed clothes and the blood spirted into the air. Fortunately, I knew just what to do, and in an instant I put my thumb on the place and stopped the bleeding. It was so close to the body that there was scarcely room for my thumb but I succeeded in keeping it there, and, arousing one of the convalescents, sent him for the surgeon, who came in on the run. "I am so thankful, H——," said he, "that you were up and knew what to do, for he must have bled to death before I could have got here." But on examination of the case he looked exceedingly serious and sent for other surgeons. All came that were in reach, and a consultation was held over the poor fellow. One conclusion was reached by all. There was no place to work save the spot where my thumb was placed; they could not work under my thumb, for if I moved it he would bleed to death before the artery could be taken up. There was no way to save his life. Poor Charley! He was very calm when they told him, and requested that his brother, who was in the same hospital, might be called up. He came and sat by the bedside, and for three hours I stood and by the pressure of my thumb kept up the life of Charley while the brothers had their last conversation on earth. It was a strange place for me to be in—to feel that I held the life of a fellow mortal in my hands, as it were, and stranger yet, to feel that an act of mine must cause that life to depart. Loving the poor pellow as I did, it was a hard thought; but there was no alternative. The last words were spoken, Charley had arranged all his business affairs, and sent tender messages to absent ones, who little dreamed how near their loved one stood to the grave. The tears filled my eyes, filled more than once as I listened to those parting words. All was sad and he turned to me. "Now, H——, I guess you had better take off you thumb." "Oh, Charley, how can I?" I said. "But it must be, you know," he replied cheerfully, "I thank you very much for your kindness, and now good by." He turned away his head. I raised my thumb, once more the life current gushed forth, and in three minutes poor Charley was dead.

A GENERAL COUNCIL of the Catholic Church throughout the world is authoritatively announced to take place at Rome during the next, or the ensuing winter. This council, it is stated, will be deliberative in its character, and will be the first general council of the Catholic Church that has been held since the famous Council of Trent. The objects of this grand council are said to be political rather than religious. Cardinal Manning, in England, asserts that the Church is to take ground, once for all, against the alleged infidel and revolutionary tendencies of the times, and interpose as a bulwark against anarchy and the dissolution of society.

UNSOCIAL old Samuel says that love is a combination of diseases—an affection of the heart and inflammation of the brain.

MR. LINCOLN AND HIS WIDOW.

Late in the winter of 1864-65, when our national prospects appeared dark and doubtful, there disappeared from the town of Hector, Schuyler county N. Y., an old lady named Story. Having lost her husband and two sons in battle, her mind became impaired, and she was known in the neighborhood as a harmless crazy women. She was about forty-five years old, short, stout, and a loud and constant talker. Her patriotism and admiration of "Old Abe" were boundless. She returned to her home after an absence of two weeks, and astonished every one by relating an interview she had at the White House with Mr Lincoln. Her narrative ran thus:

"I called at the White House early one morning and was refused admittance by the attendant, who said I must wait. Says I, 'I'm Mrs. Story, from Hector! and I am going to see Abe Lincoln." A gentleman approached and commenced talking to the front door keeper. I slipped by, but had not gone far before I met another chap, who asked my business. Says I, 'Im' Mrs. Story, from Hector, and I want to see Mr. Lincoln.' He told me I couldn't see him, and I just opened on him a little. While I was talking a door opened, and out came a long, lean, lank fellow who said: "What's up out here now, John?" I told him I wanted to see Mr. Lincoln. Said he, "walk in my good lady; I'm Mr. Lincoln." Then said I, slapping him on the back, "Honest Old Abe, Father Abraham, George Washinton the Second, how—are—you? I'm Mrs. Story from Hector." Then he pulled a chair up to the grate, made me set down, and he sot down right beside me, I told him I'd lost my man and boys in this cruel war, and was willing to shoulder a musket myself, if he'd let me, and help save our country. He asked me a great many questions, and we sot and sot and talked and talked for two hours; and when I come to go he took both my hands, and bid me "Good by and God bleess you!" which I shall never forget."

People hearing this story and knowing her condition, of course gave it no credit; but not long afterward Secretary Seward, passing through that country to Auburn, was detained some hours at Watkins. During this time, while conversing with a citizen, he asked if there lived in the county an old lady named Story, who was out of her mind. Receiving an affirmative reply, he said: "Mr. Lincoln came to me immediately after his interview with this woman and told me all about it. As he did so big tears rolled down his cheeks, and he assured me that there was patriotism enough in Mrs. Story to replenish one of the Southern States in that article, and that he had whiled away two of the most pleasant hours it had been his lot to enjoy since he entered office."

How like "Old Abe;" and how it attests that love for humanity which has made his name beloved at every hearthside in the land.

WE see it announced that General Charles G. Halpine—officially known as City Register, politically as the Democratic Union Party, poetically as Miles O'Reilly—has been appointed to present the claims of Mr. Chase to the Democratic Convention. General Halpine will introduce his speech by singing the following verses from one of his best known lyrics. We fancy the sensation the strains of his manly and spirited tenor voice will create as he warbles the following.—New York Tribune.

Come fill your glasses, fellows,
And stand up in a row,
On a Presidential drinking
We are going for to go;
Let us have no more discussion here,
At least no more to-night—
While for President Ulysses Grant
We take our foremost flight!
O, for President Ulysses
Let every glass be bright—
May he rule the country he has saved,
And God defend the right!
In the world to-day no prouder name
Is borne on any breeze,
And with Grant, to steer the ship of State,
Our flag shall rule the seas;
No "Dominion" shall be North of us,
And South of us no foe—
Our Stars and Stripes in the Canadas,
And likewise Mexico!
For with President Ulysses
Will be few who care to fight—
May he rule the country he has saved,
And God defend the right!
So, boys! a final bumper,
While we all in chorus chant—
"For next President we nominate
Our own Ulysses Grant!"
And if asked what State he hails from,
This our sole reply shall be,
"From near Appomattox Court-House,
With its famous apple-tree!"
For 'twas there to our Ulysses
That Lee gave up the fight—
Now, boys, "To Grant for President,
And God defend the right!"

FATHER Ray was a Methodist pioneer preacher in the Western States many years ago, noted for his ready wit. He was very fond of horse-flesh, and generally rode upon a superior steed. Once, while riding through the town of M., a group of young lawyers and doctors, perceiving his approach, appointed a spokesman who addressed him as follows: "Well, Father Ray, how is it that you are so much better than your Master? he had to ride an ass, but you are mounted on a very fine horse. You must be proud. Why don't you ride as did your Master?" "For the simple reason," said Ray, "that there are no asses now to be obtained; they turn them all into lawyers and doctors."

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—In view of the probably re-union of the two schools of this Church, the followining statistics are of interest:

The Old School.—This branch of the Presbyterian church is the most numerous of that denomination. In 1867 it numbered 35 Synods, 176 Presbyteries, 2,302 ministers, 2,622 churches, 246,350 communicants, and 195,023 persons connected with its sabbath schools.

New School.—The New School branch is not far behind that of its sister in its prosperity. It has 23 Synods, 109 Presbyteries, 1,870 ministers, 1,560 churches, 161,539 communicants, and 163,242 persons connected with its sunday schools.

THE first account of locusts furnished to American annals is that found in a memorial of Morton, Secretary of the Colony of Massachusetts. It bears date A. D. 1633, and runs as follows:

> There was a numerous company of flies, which were like for bigness unto wasps or humble-bees, which came out of little holes in the ground and dug up the green things, and made such a constant yelling noise as made the woods ring of them, and ready to deafen the hearers.

"DU THEY."—A wager was laid that it was a Yankee peculiarity to answer one question by another. To sustain the assertion a down Easter was interrogated. "I want you," said the better, "to give me a straightforward answer to a plain question."

"I kin do it, mister," said the Yankee.

"Then why is it that New Englanders always answer a question by asking one?"

"Du they?" was Jonathan's reply.

AN Irish glazier was putting in a pane of glass, when a groom standing by began joking him, telling him to put in plenty of putty. The Irishman bore the banter for some time, but at last silenced his tormentor by, "Arrah now, be off wid ye, or else I'll put a pain in yer head widout any putty."

WHAT is the difference between stabbing a man and killing a hog? One is assaulting with intent to kill, and the other killing with intent to salt.

CHANGE IN PUBLICATION DAY.

The new mail schedules ordered by the Post-office Department, take effect to-day. In consequence of the changes made, we find it necessary to change our publication day from Wednesday to Friday. By reference to the new schedule, which will be found in our local columns, it will be seen that mails on nearly all the routes leave Gettysburg on Saturday morning. By adopting Friday as publication day, our subscribers in all parts of the county will receive their papers promptly on Saturday, with the latest news. Our next issue, therefore, will be on July 10, instead of July 8.

THE returns of the Election in Mississippi, on the adoption of the new Constitution, came in slowly by reason of the election continuing for several days. Mississippi being the home of JEFF. DAVIS, treason is as rampant there to-day as it was during the Rebellion. The Copperhead leaders made a desperate fight to defeat the Constitution and prevent the re-construction of the State.—Among other dodges resorted to, they went into the campaign claiming to be the special friends of the colored men, organized colored "Democratic" clubs, and put colored "Democratic" orators on the stump, begging for colored votes for the "Democratic" ticket. The favorite creed of the Northern wing of the party, that this is exclusively a "white man's government" and that "niggers" have no rights which white men are bound to respect, was carefully ignored. After all, it seems that the question of the rightfulness of "colored suffrage," according to Democratic philosophy, depends entirely upon how the "nigger" votes.

Anticipating a heavy colored vote for the Democratic ticket under this new dodge, the Copperheads have for some days been jubilant over the promise of a brilliant victory. It looks, however, very much as if their hopes were to be dashed even in Mississippi, the returns indicating a close vote and the probable adoption of the constitution.

"The Colored Democratic Club of Port Gibson, assisted by their white friends, will give a grand barbecue at the Gibson, on Saturday, June 13. The other colored Democratic Clubs, and the white citizens of the county, as well as our friends in Jefferson and Copbia, white and colored, are respectfully invited to attend. There will be speaking during the day. Dinner will be served at two o'clock.

A programme will be published in the next issue of the Standard.

GEO. RUSSEL,
President of Colored Democratic Club.
JOHN DIMON, Secretary.

—Democratic Standard, Port Gibson.

We clip the above from a late paper, published in Mississippi before the late election in that State.

We print it to show the Copperheads of Adams county how the Copperheads of Mississippi treat the colored Democracy of that State.

They call them "colored people," (not "niggers")! They call themselves the white friends of the colored people!—They meet them in public assemblies, upon terms of equality. They join in public processions! Nay more! They eat at the same public table with them! They have the same speakers to address them; lie down in the same political bed; and are all good Copperheads together!

In Pennsylvania, the Cops, have not reached the same result; but their disposition to consort with CHASE and other original Abolitionists and to dodge negro suffrage in their National Platform all indicate they are preparing to "go the full length" for the negro vote. Whether the plunge will take place this year, or be deferred for a more convenient season is not yet settled. But it is settled that the dive's got to be made. Our Adams County Cops should prepare.

WE see it stated that WALLACE, chairman of the Copperhead State Central Committee, informed a friend in Pittsburg, a few evenings ago, that it would be a hard job to carry Pennsylvania against GRANT and COLFAX; and to prove it he demonstrated that last fall the Democratic Judge was elected by less than a thousand, with the Democrats polling ninety-four per cent. of their whole vote, and the Republicans seventy-five per cent. or less of theirs.

THE first prize ($500) for essays on the best means for remedying evils in the system of delegate elections, offered by the Philadelphia Union League, has been awarded to WILLIAM E. BARBER, Esq., of West Chester, formerly a law-student in this town. The fourth ($100) was awarded to Senator ERRETT of Allegheny county. We hope these essays will be printed, that the country may have the benefit of the suggestions.

REPUBLICANS, organize, and do it without delay. Let Grant and Colfax clubs be formed in every village and hamlet. Canvass every township, and know your strength. Circulate the documents [illegible] reading into the hands of every wavering and doubtful voter. The Republican ticket and platform are invincible if the Republicans do their whole duty.

FROM WASHINGTON.

On Thursday the President sent in a veto of the bill providing for the admission of the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia, Alabama and Florida to representation in Congress. It is similar in tone to the veto of the Arkansas bill, referred to last week. These Presidential vetoes are becoming a farce, and Congress treated this last one with supreme contempt, both Senate and House promptly passing the bill over the veto the same day without debate. The vote in the Senate stood yeas 35, nays 8, in the House, yeas 105, nays 30. The Arkansas Senators and members had previously been sworn in and cast their first votes with the Republicans for the bill. By the provisions of the bill the Legislatures of these six States are required to ratify the Constitutional Amendment known as the Fourteenth, before their Representatives are admitted. Gov. BULLOCH, of Georgia, has already issued his proclamation convening the Legislature of that State on the 4th inst., to elect Senators, &c. The other States will soon follow. The work of Re-construction goes bravely on, despite Presidential vetoes, and Copperhead opposition. But three States remain to be re-constructed, Virginia, Mississippi and Texas.

The President has nominated Collector SMYTHE, of New York, Minister to Austria, and PERRY FULLER as Internal Revenue Commissioner, in place of Mr. ROLLINS. Neither will be confirmed.—Both took an active part in the Impeachment movement, FULLER being largely mixed up with the Whisky Ring.

The House Ways and Means Committee on Wednesday voted to postpone the subject of a revision of the tariff to next session.

On Friday the House got through with the new Tax bill, and it now goes to the Senate. The tax on Whisky is reduced to 50 cents a gallon. The duty on imported segars was increased to $2 per lb. and 25 per cent ad valorem. Two grades of tobacco are taxed 32 and 16 cents per pound respectively, and cigars at the uniform rate of $5 00 per thousand. There is a small increase of the tax on deposits and circulation of National bank. The bill has yet to pass the Senate.

The Governor of South Carolina has issued a proclamation convening the Legislature on the 6th of July. The Louisiana Legislature assembles on Monday, 29th instant.

POLITICAL.

GEN. N. B. FORREST, the Fort Pillow butcher, is a delegate to the Democratic 4th of July Convention.

A GREAT many Germans who voted the Democratic ticket in New York, last year, are now organizing for Grant and Colfax.

IN Philadelphia on Monday the Democrats held their delegate elections. There was one murder, several stabbings and many riots and fights.

IT is said that the Democrats have adopted the apple blossom as a campaign badge. The Lebanon Courier says that it will be worn on the nose.

LET it be marked for eternal reprobation that the Democracy in Congress, after clamoring for three years for the restoration of the seceded States, voted in a body against the bills for their reconstruction on a republican basis.

THE Germans in New York city, whose desertion of the Republican party in consequence of the liquor question had caused the immense Democratic majority there of late years, are now going en masse for Grant, and organizing their Grant clubs.

THE New York World, the leading Democratic organ, thinks the Democratic party is anxious to recruit for it from the colored voters of the South. It expresses the opinion that there is no hope for the Democratic party unless it can yet a good part of the negro vote. Thus the "white man's party" is at the feet of the negro voters imploring their aid!

THE editor of the La Salle Press announces that although he publishes an independent press, he intends to vote for Grant, "because we believe that Grant is better than the party that nominated him; because we regard him as an honest man, a clear-headed, common sense man, who answers his wife's description of him while he was hammering away at Richmond, a 'dreadfully obstinate man.'"

A YOUNG girl who works in a shop in Manchester, N. H., at one dollar a day, and whose brother was at work at Worcester, Mass., at the time of the last election, wrote to him to be sure and come home to vote, as she feared the Democrats would carry the day. The day before election, taking the cars for Nassau and thence to Worcester, she started after him, as he did not appear, found him, and came back with him. That's a girl for a young man who wants a good wife to be looking after.

THE approach of another Presidential election is calling out of their hiding-places all the Copperhead leaders who fled before the defeat of the rebellion which they helped and sympathized with, and we have now a prolonged hiss from that wily and venerable serpent, Horatio Seymour of New York. He thinks the Democracy the only doctor who can cure the public afflictions, and in this he agrees with the enemies of the Union men of the South and the baffled murderers of the national liberties.

THADDEUS STEVENS has prepared four new articles of Impeachment against President Johnson, which he will present to the House. The first article charges the President with instituting provisional governments in the South without consent of Congress; the second with usurpation of the pardoning power; the third with using his patronage to obstruct the laws of Congress in the Southern States; and the fourth with using corruptly his patronage to affect the result of elections in different States within three years past. Mr. Stevens has no hopes of having his articles entertained this session.

THERE are but two parties in the approaching contest, says the Phila. Bulletin.—One includes the men who were for the country in the struggle of the rebellion and the other derives all its strength from those who were against it. General Grant undeniably leads the first, and whoever leads the latter must hold himself ready to assume all the responsibility of seeking to win a victory at the polls for the cause of rebellion, which it failed to win on the field of battle. Whether it be Chase, or Pendleton, or Hancock, or Hendricks, or English, or Seymour, the army which is to be led will be the same, and the banner under which it marches will be essentially the same that was lowered before the Stars and Stripes at Appomattox, and which will be humbled in the dust wherever it encounters the victorious legions of Gen. Grant.

No matter who may be chosen the Democratic candidate for President, on the 4th of July, he will be the choice of the rebels of the South; of the men who in any period of the war, would have voted for the recognition of the Confederacy and for the overthrow of the Union. Without their ballots there would [illegible] be no Democratic party.—Boston Transcript.

Hon. [illegible] Dickey, [illegible] an [illegible] long [illegible] Illinois [illegible] favor of Grant and [illegible] conclusion of [illegible] was follows:

"If you ask me to forget the rebellion—if you ask me to blot out from recollection the memory of the five hundred thousand brave patriots who died that their country might live [illegible] ing affectionately to-day with flowers, sweet emblems of gratitude—if you ask me to shut my eyes to the widows, and orphans, and maimed soldiers left by the war—if you ask me to assist in restoring to power treason and traitors or their auxiliaries,—if you ask me to embrace men whose hands are stained with the precious blood of our fallen heroes, and who only wait for a favorable opportunity to overthrow the Government, I tell you frankly I am not with you in that.

If you ask me to lift my voice against the Great Captain to whom we are more indebted for our preservation as a nation than to any other living man, and who has written his principles with the point of his sword on the national records, and enstamped his fidelity to liberty on the national heart, I tell you plainly I cannot do that. I claim to have some little gratitude left. The ensuing four years will, in my judgement, be the most dangerous and eventful in our history, and we must have one at the head of the Government who will be equal to the emergency, or we will sink under the weight of a crushing revolution. No tremulous hand must be at the helm; no politician who will seek only his own interest at the expense of national security. I need hardly add that, if I live until November and can reach the polls, appealing to the God of Hosts for the rectitude of my intentions, and believing I shall be serving the best interests of humanity and my country—believing there is a necessity which rises far above conventional platforms and party demands, requiring every patriotic citizen to do his duty—I shall cast my vote, Democrat though I have always been, for the incorruptible patriot, the best judge of character, and the best thinker I know in the United States, Ulysses S. Grant, and go thou and do likewise, counting it a great privilege."

"I would rather have Grant, if he's silent and still,
Than an empty declaimer of words;
I would rather have Grant with his good honest will,
Than one from noisy political herds.

"His deeds are all written in the face of the world,
And he who desires can read them afar
He stands forth to-day with his banner unfurled
In the light of his acts—Our National Star."

JUST SO.—In view of the remarkable paucity of names—prominent or otherwise—attached to the call for the "Conservative" Soldiers' Convention, we have been at a loss to know just what the World means when it says: "In that Soldiers' Convention we shall not see the prosperous sutlers * * * but the battle-scarred war-worn campaigners * * * who have been familiar with the ringing volley and rattling charge of Southern rifles." On now, however, looking over the list of delegates to the Convention, the military portion of whom will doubtless participate in the "soldiers'" gathering, we find an explanation of our cotemporary's language. Here are some of their names: N. B. Forrest, General in the Rebel army, and the butcher of Fort Pillow; B. H. Hill, General in the Rebel army; John B. Gordon, General in the Rebel army; Thomas L. Price, General in the Rebel army; Z. B. Vance, non-fighting General in the Rebel service; Wade Hampton, General in the Rebel army; J. G. Barrett, Rebel spy during the war; Robert Ould, Rebel agent for the exchange of prisoners.—N. Y. Commercial.

GENERAL Butler has written a letter in reply to one written by Senator Fowler, in which the latter denounced him for his support of the impeachment movement as a revolutionist, in which he gives the details of an interview between him and the Senator in 1866. He states that after his Milwaukee speech in that year in favor of impeachment, Fowler travelled four hundred miles to meet him, and urged the propriety and necessity of keeping up the movement inaugurated by that speech. In the presence of a young man from Tennessee, who detailed Johnson's private character and career as Military Governor to General Bulter, Senator Fowler demanded impeachment as the only safety of the loyalists of the South, and added that none but a Southerner, particularly a Tennesseean, could appreciate the great necessity for the removal of the President.

HON. John A. Bingham was serenaded at his home in Ohio, recently, and in response delivered a speech concluding as follows:

"Though the President is not removed, as he should have been, he is nevertheless admonished that he is not the people's master, nor above their laws. The people need not be discouraged—the power is in their hands, and under the lead of the hero of the century they may achieve in the coming elections, by ballot, a victory as brilliant and as essential to the future of the Republic, as that which they did achieve in 1865, under the same wise, patriotic and heroic leader by the bayonet.—[Prolonged applause.] Let the great people who saved the Republic by arms, save it as well by laws. Let them in the final conflict of 1868 wisely ordain, by their election decree, from which there is no appeal, that the pending amendment to the Constitution of the United States shall be part of the Supreme law of the land, and thereby forever secure the national integrity and establish that justice which the Constitution was ordained to establish, and upon the due observance of which depended the peace and safety of men and nations."

THE Copperheads profess to sneer at Gen. Grant because he has been in the tanning business. They can respect no one who is not an aristocrat. Plain people admire men who have been connected with the producing interests. Then the Copperheads do not like the suggestion of Gen. Grant's old business. They anticipate that he will perform a job of tanning in November on a larger scale than ever before attempted. He will tan the hides of the self-styled "Conservatives" and "Democrats" in a manner to convince them that he is a perfect workman. No wonder they tremble at the sight of a tanner leading the popular hosts.

TWELVE HUNDRED Southern white men were on Monday made citizens by act of Congress. All the Democrats in the House, except one, voted against removing the political disabilities of these twelve hundred. We have been told so often by the Democrats that this is a white man's Government, that we supposed, not unnaturally, they would joyfully vote to make it so; but they seem to prefer what they call negro rule. The fact is, we suppose, that they would disfranchise everybody but the Democrats; for we notice that whenever they can get a negro to vote the Democratic ticket they have nothing to say against black votes.—N. Y. Evening Post.

THE Copperhead party are hopelessly divided upon every important question now before the country. There are bondholders like Seymour and repudiators like Pendleton; War Democrats like Hancock and Rebel leaders like Forrest and Buckner; negro suffrage men and "white man's government" men—each as different from the others as day is from night. The party dares not take positive ground upon any of these subjects, nor can it serve two masters. What is to become of it may therefore be easily imagined. It is bound to go under.—Lebanon Courier.

SOME of the rascals are catching it. Six collectors and inspectors of the Internal Revenue department—two in New York, and four in Richmond—have been sentenced to pay certain fines and undergo imprisonment for collusion with whisky distillers in defrauding the Government. If Johnson don't pardon them they will have to pick oakum for a couple of years, and serves them right.

MR. Alfred Lee, a colored resident of Georgetown D. C., died the other day, leaving to his family a fortune of three hundred thousand dollars, which he had amassed in the flour business.

IN Philadelphia, on Thursday, a youth of thirteen years drank five glasses of lager, and was then drowned in the Delaware. The parties who sold the unfortunate lad the liquor have been arrested.

THE Boston steamer on Wednesday, from Norfolk Va., carried off two thousand barrels of Vegetables, and left almost as many barrels on shore, which she was unable to take. The daily shipments of vegetables from Norfolk to the northern cities is now very large.

A NEW rifle has made its appearance in Paris, called the Ravageur, which, according to the assertions of its inventor, eclipses both the Needle gun and the Chassepot, and can be fired forty rounds per minute, or 2400 per hour.

A SINGLE machine has recently been invented by a gentleman of East Sumner, Me., which cuts thirty-seven shingles per minute, and can be made to cut forty thousand per day. Only two hands are required to operate it.

FEW people know what an empire Texas is. It would make twenty-five New Hampshires, or more than five New Yorks, or nearly six Pennsylvanias. It is nearly three times as large as the island of Great Britain; and nearly half as large again as France.

THE Commencement at Princeton College, Princeton, New Jersey, took place on Wednesday. The funds of the College have been increased to $250,000 by private subscription. John. C. Green, a retired New York merchant, has placed in the hands of the Trustees $100,000 in United States bonds.

GENERAL Grant has issued an order to General Buchanan, commanding in Louisiana, directing the removal of Governor Baker and Lieut. Governor Voorhees, and the installation of the Republican Governor and Lieut. Governor elected at the recent election.

IT has been said that Chief Justice Chase is about to abandon the Republicans, and try the Democratic party. This must be a mistake; for, if he wanted to try the Democratic party, would'nt he try Jeff. Davis.—Detroit Post.

GENERAL Sherman is reported to have said in conversation at St. Louis on Thursday, that there is nothing to be apprehended from the Indians on the plains; that they are peaceable and quiet, and that more murders are committed in any large city than by Indians.

NICHOLAS ZOLLINGER, a well-known and highly respected citizen of Harrisburg, was run over yesterday afternoon by the passenger train from Philadelphia, and had both legs taken off. The accident occurred within a square of his home. He was attempting to cross the tract at the time.

THE Grand Lodge of good Templars held its annual session at Williamsport week before last commencing on Wednesday and closing on Friday evening. Three hundred and ten lodges in this State were presented. Hon. Simon B. Chase, of Susquehanna county, was elected presiding officer for the ensuing year, and Miss L. E. Wright re-elected G. W. S.

THE culture of oranges and lemons in California is a success. Some idea of the gains of an orange or lemon plantation in bearing may be formed by quoting the wholesale prices of these fruit in San Francisco in mid April, 1868, when the best Los Angeles lemons were selling for $50 per thousand, and their best oranges also for $50 per thousand.

A LEGACY of one thousand dollars is left to the Reformed church of Peapack, New Jersey, by the will of Jacob J. Tiger, deceased, upon condition that the church grounds be kept free from Canada thistles and wild carrots, and if the growth of such foul weeds are permitted to any extent, then the legacy is to be forfeited.

THE statue of Luther, erected at Worms in commemoration of the Reformation, was inaugurated on Thursday. The King of Prussia and the Crown Prince were present, and a vast concourse of people from all parts of Europe and America. Salvos of artillery were fired when the statue was unveiled, and a hymn was afterwards sung by several thousand voices.

THE Masonic demonstration at the laying of the corner-stone of the new Masonic Temple, in Philadelphia, on Thursday, is said to have been the finest demonstration of the kind ever witnessed in that city. Thousands of the Brotherhood were in line, and every section of the country represented. The new Temple will be the most imposing building in Philadelphia, Girard College excepted.

CURE FOR THE TOOTH ACHE.—At a meeting of the London Medical Society, Dr. Blake, a distinguished practitioner, said that he was able to cure the most desperate case of toothache, unless the disease is connected with rheumatism, by the application of the following remedy: Alum, reduced to an impalpable powder, two drachms; nitrous spirits of ether, seven drachms; mix and apply to the tooth.

A LONG CAPTIVITY.—The [illegible] Commercial of the 2[illegible]:—Some years ago Paris Shirley married a [illegible] (step-daughter of Richard Ho[illegible]) near Bloomington, in this State. Some time after the marriage Shirley removed to Illinois, where, in the course of time, he bought a Grove of timber, after sending his wife and two or three children back to Bloomington to remain with their friends until his return, he started with his cattle to California. A short distance beyond Salt Lake City he was captured by the Flat-head Indians, and his cattle confiscated. He remained in captivity some eight or ten years. During all this time his friends heard not a word from him, and he was supposed to be dead. In the meantime his wife sought and obtained a divorce, and was married about a year ago, and removed with her husband to Illinois; and now comes the sorrowful part of the story. On Thursday of last week, says the Mitchell Commercial, Shirley returned to his father's (John Shirley's), near Bloomington, in bright anticipation of a happy meeting with his beloved wife and children; and, when told that his wife was married, he wept like a child. We learn that he has written his late wife a letter, alleging that he has the oldest claim; but the courts can afford no relief. So closely did the "redskins" keep Mr. Shirley confined that he never heard a word of the rebellion until he made his escape only a short time ago.—He bears upon his person unmistakable evidence of hard treatment, but he considers this a small matter when compared to the loss of the mother of his children."

HORRIBLE.—The Big Sandy (Ky.) Herald of June 18 says.—"On Sunday last, a man named Clark, who lives near Keeser's Rocks, on Sands, came to town and got drunk, went home and began abusing his family, and kept it up until a late hour in the night, beating his wife, threatening to shoot her, the children, or some one else, before the next day. He put a gun into the mouth of one of the children and threatened to shoot him, but an older boy knocked the gun away and took it from him. He then sent another child somewhere in the neighborhood of his house to get another gun he had there, loaded, all the time vowing he would kill some one. While the child was gone he pulled his bed upon the floor and laid down, when the mother, for fear of her life, or that of her children, seized an axe and struck him several blows, the first of which proved fatal, he not moving after being struck.

"The woman and her family were arrested and brought into town on Monday, and examined before Judge Norris. The evidence proved that the act was done to save herself and children from murder, and they were discharged."

THE St. Paul Press says that on Sunday last the three children of Mr. B. Schreiber, of Mankato, Minn., asked and received permission of their parents to go out walking. They were three very bright handsome little boys, aged thirteen, nine and seven years.—They passed along down the band of the Minnesota river to a secluded place, when the one aged nine determined to go in bathing.—While doing so he got beyond his depth and commenced to drown. The eldest brother at once ran to his recue, but in the struggle he evidently saw that both would lose their lives, for when the little fellow on the shore started in, he called to him saying: "Don't come near us or father will lose all his boys together." In a few seconds after both sank to the bottom. The alarm was soon given and a prompt search made for their bodies. They were recovered in about half an hour, but life was entirely extinct. The two little fellows were tightly locked in each other's arms, having died while thus holding each other in a death grasp.

A WIFE POISONED BY HER HUSBAND SO AS TO GET HER LIFE INSURANCE MONEY.—Charles Tucker, alias Mason, was lately tried at Niagara, New York, and sentenced to be hung in August next for poisoning his wife. About a year ago he procured a policy in the Connecticut Mutal Life insurance Company, the policy being for $5,000 and covering the lives of himself and wife, the survivor to have the money in case of the death of either party.—Mrs. Mason was then in good health. Soon after the policy was obtained they removed to Lockport, and she died there in September, after a short and violent illness. Mason's conduct when he went to collect the insurance money excited suspicion, and the body of his wife was disinterred and found to contain poison. Hence his trial and conviction.

GRASSHOPPERS.—We received a call last evening from Levi Higgins, Esq., of Chicago. He was on his way home from the West. He reports that the grasshopper crop in the vicinity of Des Moines will at the present time yield full forty bushels to the acre; that when they have attained their full size the crop will average seventy-five or eighty bushels. They are making their way eastward at the rate of forty miles per day. The little rascals are not at all dainty about their food, but relish dog fennel and smart weed with a perfect gusto. Mr. H. reports many farmers as disheartened at the prospect of not realizing anything from their crop this season. Many talk of selling out unless the plague is stayed.

IN House of Commons, on Thursday, the Irish Reform bill was read for the third time and passed. In the House of Lords an exciting debate took place on the question. The bill will hardly pass the latter body, in which case Parliament will be dissolved, and an appeal be made to the electors of the kingdom. The Ministry will not surrender their positions, unless beaten in a new election.

THE pork-packers of St. Louis offer to give $1,000 in prizes for the best breed of hogs to be exhibited at the St. Louis Fair, which begins on the 5th of October. The largest prize is $500, and is given for the best boar and sow of any breed, with five pigs of same breed, not to be over six months old.

A WASHINGTON letter writer says that the committee appointed to investigate the alleged frauds in the Pay Department unearthed a startling piece of rascality in the Second Auditor's office. Under the law of Congress all the colored troops mustered into service were to receive $300 for bounty and allowance.—Subsequently a law was passed providing that no part of this money should be paid to the owners of slaves who entered the service. It appears that the Clerk in the Second Auditor's office has, in defiance of this law, paid out nearly a million of dollars to parties claiming to represent negroes mustered into the service, said parties generally being the owners of said negroes at the time they were mustered in.

DEMOCRATIC ELECTION FRAUDS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Concord Moniteur says that at the last State election, instead of a majority 2,598 Gov. Harriman, if only the honest vote of the State had been cast, would have had a clear majority of more than 5,000. The evidence is at hand that three thousand fraudulent voters were cast for John G. Sinclair. The returns in the Secretary's office show that in the 106 Democratic towns in the State, they returned 700 more votes than they had ratable polls, while in the 129 Republican towns, the number of votes returned was 2,127 less than the number of ratable polls!"

A LETTER from Oregon, written on the day of election, explains the Democratic victory there, in one sentence: "We have been flooded with renegades from Missouri and Arkansas—remnants of Price's army."

NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

BEDFORD.—The Copperheads have nominated B. F. Meyers of Bedford, for Congress; [illegible] McD[illegible] Sharpe of Chambersburg, for additional Law Judge; and T. H. Lyons, of Bedford, for Legislature.

CARROLL.—Charles B. Roberts, Esq., of Westminister, was prostrated by sun-stroke in Baltimore last week, but recovered by prompt medical aid.

CUMBERLAND.—Rev. Dr Edwards, of Baltimore, has been elected Professor of Philosophy and English Literature in Dickinson College.

FRANKLIN.—Only $28,000 are lacking to make up the $300,000 required to put the Mont Alto Railroad under contract.—A movement is being made for a railroad between Mercersburg and Hagerstown.—Two horses of George Saurbaugh, near Waynesboro' were killed by lightning on the evening of the 23d ult., while in a field.

FREDERICK.—Gov. Swan has commuted the punishment of Edward Jones, convicted of rape on Miss Cline, to imprisonment for life. —Stephen Howell had his thigh broken near New Market last week, while raising a barn.—Ninety shares in the Frederick National Bank were sold at public sale last week at $20.50, and 110 shares at $20—par value $15; and 11 shares of the Farmers and Mechanics National Bank at $50—par value $25.—The Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Railroad Company was to have organized on the 13th ult.—William D. Warman, a prominent citizen of Frederick died suddenly a few days ago.

LANCASTER.—Last week two children of Michael Welsh, of Columbia, crawled under a train of cars standing on the track, to gether some chips; the train started, nearly severing the body of one aged 5 years, and seriously injuring the other.—A child of Amos R. Young, Mountjoy township, died on the 13th ult., from eating Lucifer matches.—A son of William Bowman, aged 8 years, was drowned in Lancaster on Wednesday, while bathing in the Conestoga.

WASHINGTON.—Samuel L. Weisel of Williamsport, Md., is among the newly appointed Cadets to West Point.—The colored Masons of Hagerstown had a procession on Wednesday last attended by colored lodges from Chambersburg and Frederick.—On the 17th ult., the Trustees of Antietam Cemetery met at Sharpsburg and re-considered the resolution in regard to the burial of the Rebel dead; final action was postponed until November.

YORK.—A new catholic Church is to be erected in Hanover, on the site of the old one. —A bridge on Hanover Branch Railroad, near the Junction, was burned on the 20th ult.—Maj. Frederick Metgar, of Hanover, aged 83, died on Wednesday last, from the effects of a fall the Friday previous.—Last week the distilleries of George W. Ruby, Adam K. Bortner, and William Foust, of Shrewsbury township, were seized and closed by U. S. Revenue offices, for alleged frauds in distilling and removing Whiskey without paying the tax. A few weeks since, the distillery of F. Bartholmai and G. W. Noedel, in North Codorus township, was also seized and closed. —On the 21st ult., the Carpenter Shop of Andrew Gotwaldt, York, took fire from a match carelessly thrown on the floor, and was consumed with all its contents.—On Tuesday night about 2 o'clock a fire broke out in the Tin Shop of C. C. Kottcamp, York, destroying it and the dwelling of W. E. McLaughlin adjoining; the inmates of the latter having barely time to escape.—John Adams, injured by the explosion of Johnson's powder mill, has died.—A little girl was bitten by a mad dog in York last week.

A FRUIT Growers' Association, composed of some of the most prominent gentlemen of the State, is establishing a farm in Franklin county, at the base of the North Mountain, which is attracting some attention. The farm contains 214 acres, said to be admirably located, and peculiarly adapted to fruit growing. About 170 acres are under cultivation, planted with apple, peach and pear trees to the number of 12,000. The ground between the trees is occupied with other crops. Sixteen acres have been set apart for grapes and strawberries, and a like space for dwarf and standard pear trees. The grounds are laid out in blocks of four acres each, divided by avenues forty-two feet wide, with a central avenue one hundred feet wide. We notice among the list of stock holders the names of Gov. Geary, Col. Forney, James Colder, and others well known throughout the State. It is wise to encourage the cultivation of fruits.

640 MILES OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. Sixty miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this at the earliest possible day, will be done.

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is an absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. THE GOVERNMENT PERMITS the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with stations, turn outs, car-shops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which over Eight Million Dollars have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through traffic that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount,

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

The Company has abundant means in its treasury, and makes no appeal to the public to purchase their Bonds, as the daily subscriptions are entirely satisfactory; but they submit that they afford a security and liberal returns, there is certainly no better investment in the market.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102, and at the present rate of gold, they pay a liberal income on their cost.

The Company believe that these Bonds, at the present rate, are the cheapest security in the market, and reserve the right to advance the price at any time. Subscriptions will be received in New York.

Subscriptions will be received in Gettysburg, Pa., by the FIRST NATIONAL BANK and GETTYSBURG NATIONAL BANK,
and in New York
At the COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 NASSAU STREET
AND BY
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, BANKERS, No. 59 WALL ST.
And by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices or to any of the advertised agents.

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS.

THE County Commissioners take this method of informing the Tax-payers of Adams county that the State Auditor is no longer allow abatement for early payment of State Taxes—but add five per cent. to the quota of each county that does not pay by the 1st of August. The Commissioners therefore give notice that in order to meet this demand, Tax payers throughout this county will be expected to pay on or before the 18TH DAY OF JULY NEXT—otherwise five per cent. must be added by the Collectors in all cases. Gettysburg, Wednesday, July 1, 1868.

LITERARY ENTERTAINMENT.—The Literary Entertainment, given at Boyd's School-house, will be repeated, by special request on Saturday evening, July 4th.

TO BE CLOSED.—The Stores and places of business in Gettysburg will be closed on the 4th. The Post-office will be open from 6 to 7 A. M. and CLOSED the balance of the day.

LOCUST STING.—The Hanover Spectator says that a little son of Mr. JORDY, store keeper, at Abbottstown, died last week from the sting of a locust. The same paper also reports several cases in York county.

CLOSING EXERCISES.—The closing exercises of the Gettysburg Female Seminary, consisting of Essays, &c, by the young ladies, will take place on Friday afternoon next.

☞Capt. JOHN BURKHOLDER of Bendersville, has been appointed Chief Marshal for the next Agricultural Fair. The programme and premium list are being arranged, and will be announced in due time.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS.—Agricultural Hall will be open on Friday evening, for anniversary exercises, prepared expressly for these children. Strangers, citizens—all interested in the Orphans' Homestead—are desired to be present.

ACCIDENT.—On the 23d ult., SAMUEL CRIST, son of Mr. JOHN CRIST, of Cumberland township, fell on a grass scythe, severely cutting his right arm over the wristjoint, severing an artery. Dr. O'NEAL was called in, who secured the artery, and checked the bleeding.

ANOTHER RAILROAD.—It is proposed to build a railroad from Emmittsburg to the Western Maryland Railroad, immediately west of Monocacy river. The length of the road will be about seven miles, passing through a fine section of the country.

EXAMINATION.—An examination of the students of the Normal School, under charge of Mr. SHEELY, took place on Friday last. Engagements prevented us from attending, but we understand that every thing passed off pleasantly and creditably.

FIRE WORKS.—"Young America" will be glad to learn that at a meeting of the Town Council on Monday evening, the Borough Ordinance prohibiting the sale and firing of Fireworks, was modified so as to except the national holidays—New Years day, 22d of February, and 4th of July.

NEW JOB PRESS.—We have received our new Gordon Card Press, and are now prepared to turn out Cards and Circulars of all kinds, Letter Heads, Bill Heads, Checks, Tickets, &c., in PLAIN and FANCY colors, in the best style, at low rates, and on short notice. Give us a call.

BRIDGE CONTRACT.—The contract for the building of a covered Wooden Bridge across the Big Conowago, on the road leading from Hunterstown to York Springs, was recently awarded, by the County Commissioners, to PITTENTURF & Co., at $2,797.

ACCIDENT.—On the 22d ult., as a horse belonging to Mr. MARTIN GILBERT, of this place, while being driven in a one horse wagon, took fright and ran away, dashing down East Middle street and turning into Strattan, breaking the wagon. The horse finally slipped and fell, breaking his leg.—He was subsequently shot. We understand he was valued at about $100.

COMMENCEMENTS.—The Commencement at Mt. St. Mary's College, near Emmitsburg, took place on Wednesday last, and that at St. Joseph's on Thursday. The attendance was unusually large and the exercises very interesting. Among the distinguished visitors were Archbishops SPAULDING, of Baltimore, MCCLOSKEY, of New York, and PURCELL, of Cincinnatti.

THE CROPS.—Our exchanges generally speak of the favorable prospects for a large crop of grain this season. In this county, our Farmers are busy at hay-making, the crops being unusually large and good. The prospects for a large yield of grain are good, but we regret to learn that in various sections the weevil and rust have made their appearance, threatening much damage.

CARDS.—With our new Gordon Jobber, and full assortment of Fancy Job Type, we are prepared to furnish, at an hour's notice, all kinds of Visiting or Business Cards, Wedding Cards, Ball, Concert and Lecture Tickets, in PLAIN or FANCY colors, equal to the best City work. Our new Gordon works beautifully, and can be seen in operation any day.

LARGE TREE.—Mr. HENRY LOTT, who has just returned from a trip to the West, tells us that in Wyandotte county, near Upper Sandusky, Ohio, he saw a vigorous, thriving Sycamore tree, which measured 44 feet around the trunk. Not quite as large as the California trees, but a very respectable one. A transverse section of the trunk would make a solid floor for a good sized room.

DEATH FROM BURN.—On Saturday last, the youngest child of Mr. F. C. GARDNER residing on the Harrisburg road, about 3 miles from town, a little girl, named Teresa Jane, aged about 6 years, was terribly burned, causing her death the next day.—The mother had left the house for a short time to do some washing near by. During her absence, by some means or other the clothing of the child had taken fire, probably from the cooking stove, and upon the mother's return, a large part of the clothing was burned to a crisp, the child suffering terribly. Dr. O'NEAL was promptly called in, and relieved the little sufferer as far as possible, death ensuing the next morning.

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.—A Pittsburg paper says a new scheme for swindling farmers is on the tapis. The article now offered is a wrought iron plow-point, fitting into a hollow square, of the economy of which wonderful tales are told. Those that have got bitten find that wrought iron points cost more apiece than entire shares of cast iron. As these plow point swindlers are understood to be making a hurried sweep up through the Southern counties of New York, in order to get into West Virginia, Pennsylvania and the Eastern States, farmers would do well to be on the alert for them. Papers desirous of saving their patrons' pockets will direct attention to this swindling scheme. It has cost the farmers of the West about $200,000 the past year.

ANOTHER RAILROAD.—It may not be generally known that the Legislature, at its last session, passed an Act incorporating the "Adams County Railroad Company," with power to build a Railroad from a point at or near Petersburg, (Y. S.) to connect with the Northern Central road at or near New Cumberland, or with the Cumberland Valley Road at or near Mechanicsburg. In another column will be found the proceedings of the commissioners named in the bill, held on the 23d ult., at which it was resolved to have preliminary surveys of both routes at an early date. We are glad to see this movement. Either route will run through a rich and productive section of the country, which, properly developed, would furnish a large amount of freight and travel; sufficient, we should think, to make the road self-sustaining. Energetic men are at the head of the movement, and we hope it may prove a success.

THE LOCUSTS AGAIN.—We give some further extracts from Dr. SMITH's account of the Locust, which have been rapidly disappearing during the last week. Dr. SMITH says the locusts do not go deep in the ground. They live on the vegetable juices of the roots near the surface, which they take with their spouts or rostrum. There are three small hairs in the snout, which, in feeding are projected and spread out over the surface of the roots or leaves of trees, and these collect the juice and convey it by capillary attraction to the stomach. You can see this operation very distinctly in the perfect insect, by watching it with a magnifying glass.—They have no other mouth or means of taking food, either in the larva or winged state.

The Ovipositor is a most curious instrument. It is about three-eighths of an inch long, of the size of a small pin, flattened at the point, and the whole making a moderate curve. It is composed of a material very much resembling tortoise shell, of a dark reddish brown color. It is composed of three pieces; a centre piece, which is the tube or duct, and two side pieces. The centre piece or tube, has a sharp chissel-formed point, with two sharp projecting points, one above the other, below the orifice, resembling a fish's mouth. The two side pieces are supplied with saw teeth on their edges, and to the centre piece by tongue and groove. In use, the centre piece is fixed firmly to the bark, and the two side pieces commence working up and down, first one and then the other alternately, and thus the excavation is made. All this, however, can only be seen with the aid of a powerful magnifying glass.

On looking at the instrument with the naked eye no such mechanism would be suspected.

The Musical Organs are also very curious, and difficult to describe. Directly under the shoulder of the wing on each side of the chest there is a beautiful membrane, somewhat triangular, convex, and ribbed with bony ridges. The membrane resembles a small shell, and is stretched over a cavity in the chest, the lower angle connected internally with a strong muscle. On the breast there are two large scales, one on each side, firmly attached to the breast above but free below. On bending the body backward these scales are elevated and expose two large cavities also covered with extremely fine and silken like membranes. These cavities are connected with those under the musical membranes under the wing and shoulders and probably serve for lungs.—When these cavities are filled with air the musical organs or membranes first described, are made to produce the sound by the large muscles; the horney ridges of the membranes being made to act on each other with such rapidity that the motion is scarcely perceptible.

THE FOURTH.—No movement has been made to celebrate the 4th, in this place. We hear, however, of a number of Pic-Nics in preparation, and the day will be observed in that way.

The Zouaves will parade at 4 o'clock, A. M., each member provided with 50 rounds of blank cartridges. They will also meet in the evening for target practice.

JOHN ADAMS had a different idea of the mode in which the 4th of July should be commemorated, from that which in these latter days obtains among some worthy people, who have forgotten that they were once boys. On the day after the Declaration of Independence was passed, ADAMS wrote a letter to his wife, in which occurs the following glowing passage:

> "Yesterday the greatest question was decided that ever was debated in America; and greater, perhaps, never was or will be decided among men. A resolution was passed, without one dissenting colony, 'that these United States are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states.' The day is passed. The fourth of July, 1776, will be a memorable epoch in the history of America. I am apt to believe it will be celebrated, by succeeding generations, as the great anniversary festival. It ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance, by solemn acts of devotion to Almighty God.—It ought to be solemnized with pomps, shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires, and illuminations, from one end of the continent to the other, from this time forward for ever.—You will think me transported with enthusiasm, but I am not. I am well aware of the toil, and blood, and treasure, that it will cost to maintain this declaration, and support and defend these states; yet, through all the gloom, I can see the rays of light and glory. I can see that the end is worth more than all the means; and that posterity will triumph, although you and I may rue, which I hope we shall not."

NEW MAIL ROUTES.—The new mail schedules in Pennsylvania and Maryland take effect to-day. The Department has made some change in the services in this county since the contracts were awarded. The service on the Menallen route has been divided—one to run tri-weekly, to Idaville, via Mummasburg, Arendtsville, Bigler, Flora Dale, and Bendersville, and the other semi-weekly to the same office, via Menallen and Table Rock. Wenk's will be supplied from Bendersville. The service from New Oxford to York Springs, via Hampton, Round Hill, &c. has been restored to a daily route. We annex the new schedules, as they now stand:

No. 2155 Hanover to East Berlin, tri-weekly, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.
2156 Hanover to McSherrystown daily; to Square Corner tri weekly, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.
2161 Gettysburg to Hagerstown, tri-weekly, leaving Gettysburg Tuesday. Thursday and Saturday—returning Monday, Wednesday and Friday.
2162 Gettysburg to New Chester, semi-weekly, Tuesday and Saturday.
2163 Gettysburg to Idaville, via Mummasburg, Bendersville, &c., tri-weekly, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.
2164 Gettysburg to Idaville, via Menallen and Table Rock, semi-weekly, Wednesday and Saturday.
2165 New Oxford to York Springs, daily except Sunday.
2166 East Berlin to Dillsburg, once a week, Thursday.
2167 Littlestown to Harney, tri-weekly, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.
2168 York Springs to York, once a week, Saturday.
2192 Gettysburg to Mechanicsburg, tri weekly, leaving Gettysburg Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and returning Monday, Wednesday and Friday.
2291 York Springs to Carlisle, daily, except Sunday.
2940 Gettysburg to Chambersburg, and Gettysburg to Littlestown, daily as at present.
2962 Gettysburg to Frederick, tri-weekly, leaving Gettysburg Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday; returning Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

ALL KINDS OF JOB WORK.—Having largely added to our facilities for Job Printing, we are now enabled with the aid of our Campbell Power Press, Gordon Jobber, and Hand Presses, to turn out promptly all kinds of Printing, from the smallest Card to the largest Poster, including Pamphlets, Speeches, Catalogues, Circulars, Programmes, &c. With our new Presses and enlarged assortment of type, we claim to have one of the best Printing offices in the State, and shall be glad at all times to see our friends.

A FULL ASSORTMENT.—The attention of Farmers, Builders, Contractors, and others is invited to the large assortment of LUMBER of all kinds suitable for building purposes, to be found at Col. C. H. BUEHLER's Lumber Yard, at corner of Carlisle street and Railroad depot, including Boards, Planks, Flooring, Siding, Laths, Pickets, Shingles, &c.—Also Posts, hewed and sawed, with prime Fencing Boards, white Pine and Hemlock. His stock is not only large, but his arrangements are such that he can sell at the very lowest cash rates. Also, constantly on hand Black-smith, Lime Burners' and Stove COAL. tf

☞Housekeepers and others wanting good Cooking Stoves, the best in the market, warranted to bake and give satisfaction, or any thing in lind of Tin Ware, Japan Ware, Hollow Ware, Chamber Sets, Bread and Spice Boxes, Ice Cream Freezers, Water Coolers, Coffee Mills, Bird Cages, Fruit Jars and Cans, Waiters, &c. &c., will find just what they want at the Ware-room of Col. C. H. Buehler, corner of Railroad and Carlisle street, opposite the Passenger Depot, at prices which defy competition. tf

RAILROAD MEETING.

A meeting of the Commissioners named in the act incorporating the "Adams County Railroad Company," was held at the house of JOHN D. BECKER, in Petersburg (Y. S.), on the 23rd of June. All the Commissioners except two were present, and much interest was manifested by them, as well as by many other gentlemen present, in the proposed railroad.

Col. JOHN WOLFORD was elected President, and Gen. W. W. WRIGHT, Secretary.

The object of the meeting was then stated to be first, to lift the Charter granted by the Legislature; and second, to take measures for raising money for a survey of the proposed route. The necessary amount of money to procure the Charter was at once raised on the spot, and the following named Committee was appointed to procure the requisite means for having the survey made:

Col. JOHN WOLFORD, President and Treasurer.

Dillsburg—Geo. W. Wagner, George Law, J. J. Moore, P. G. Miller and Jesse Lerew.

Clearspring—Edward Dick and David K. Lerew.

Franklintown—Capt. John Klugh.

Lisburn—John Sherrick.

Huntington township—Ephraim Hiteshew, Hartman & Sadler, John D. Becker, Latshaw & Grove, Mrs. Jane Read, Boreas W. Zeigler, J. Franklin Gardner, Wm. B. Gardner, Isaac Sadler, Thomas G. Neely, John William Wierman, Lewis W. Heikes and Wesley Sadler.

Latimore township—Abraham Fisher, Joseph Fickle, Abraham Zeigler, T. Brenneman, Nicholas F. W. Bowers and Conrad E. Myers.

Reading township.—Adam S. Myers.

The following resolutions were then passed:

First.—That the sums paid by parties to the survey and charter fund be credited to them on the Stock Subscription Books, when opened. as so much money paid on account of stock subscribed.

Second—That the next meeting of the Commissioners shall be held at the "Nelson House" in Dillsburg, York county, Pa., at 2 o'clock, P. M., on the 1st day of August next.

Third—That the President is authorized to call a special meeting of the Commissioners previous to August 1st, if at any time circumstances should render such action necessary or advisable.

Fourth—That as the object of this meeting is one of public interest, the editors of the several newspapers in Adams, York and Cumberland counties be requested to publish an abstract of the proceedings.

It is proposed to have the preliminary surveys made as soon as the necessary funds can be raised for the purpose. Two lines will be examined from a "point at or near York Springs"—one to connect with the Cumberland Valley Railroad at or near Mechanicsburg, and the other to connect with the Northern Central Railway at or near New Cumberland.

JOHN WOLFORD, President.
W. W. WRIGHT, Secretary.

[Correspondence of the Star and Sentinel.

PERRY Co., June 27th, 1868.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Since leaving Gettysburg's historic ground I have been at times sweltering under the rays of a June sun, and at others enjoying the balmy breezes of the fair Susquehanna, or gazing with delight upon the beautiful scenery. The rugged cliffs, beautiful vales and majestic river, form a scene worthy the pen of an Irving.—"God made the country," exclaims one and we feel it to be true. 'Tis grand to look at nature and thus see nature's God. 'Tis all the work of chance, says the infidel. I pity him.

Spent a few days at Williamsport, attending the commencement exercises of Dickinson Seminary, which were very interesting. A large graduating class acquitted themselves very creditably. This institution is very pleasantly located, and in a flourishing condition. THOMPSON MITCHELL, D. D. is President; while the faculty is certainly a credit to the institution.

Williamsport is the place where the Copperheads try to prevent students voting; reasoning thus: "Knowledge is injurious to modern democracy, therefore we must do all we can to prevent the education of the people." They were hugging "BRICK POMEROY" to their bosoms last winter, from which we infer they are alike.

By the way; have you heard of the new party. "Peace Union," which has presented the name of Dr. ROBERT SIMPSON, of Liverpool, Perry co., Pa. for President, and Mr. ELDRIDGE, of Baltimore, for Vice President. They seem determined to revolutionize the world, and for this purpose have chosen Foutz's Valley as their Headquarters. They had a convention in Harrisburg a few days ago, which President SIMPSON pronounced a grand success, but of which they will tell nothing. It was unfindable. Probably it would be policy on the part of Gen. GRANT to withdraw from the contest. Poor CHASE; he will soon be so low that it will require very sharp eyes to see him. I am sorry for him. How rapidly a man can descend.—Let moral men learn a lesson from him.

The prospect for a crop of wheat is cheering. I never saw such uniformity in the appearance of the fields. Hoping the people may be wise and whatsoever they do, do all to the honor and glory of God, I remain.

Truly yours,
RAMBLER.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—Chief Justice Woodward of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, has delivered the following opinion, which is important to our merchants, manufacturers, workingmen, and, in fact, the people of the whole country. He says: "I find 'HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS' is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system." No better recommendation could be given to so valuable a tonic as this celebrated standard Bitters. "Hoofland's German Bitters" contains no Alcoholic material. Hoofland's German Tonic is a mixture containing all the ingredients of Hoofland's Bitters, combined with pure Santa Cruz Rum, orange, anise, &c., forming the best and most pleasant Tonic in the world. Principal Office, 631 Arch St., Philad'a, Pa. Sold everywhere by Druggists and others. 1t

COMMUNION WINE.—We have been shown specimens of sacramental or pure juice wine, prepared by Mr. Alfred Speer of Passaic, N. J., out of the Port Grape, which he cultivates in this country. In taste it assimilates to port, without its healing qualities, being absolutely free from spirits further than its own fermentation affords. Preference is given to it over all other wines in New York and other hospitals as a tonic, gentle stimulant, diuretic and sudorific. Mr. Speer has been nine years experimenting in the production of this wine, and the newest wine he sells is four years old, of which our druggists have got in a supply. 1t

HOUSEKEEPERS who want the worth of their money should buy Tin-ware, &c., at S. G. COOK's, (formerly A. Polley's) York street, as it is well known his ware is made of the very best material. THE PARAGUAYAN AMAZONS.—A letter from Buenos Ayres, of the date of the 26th of May, gives the following concerning the reported arming of the women of Paraguay against Brazil and the allies:

Lopez is arming women, and letters state that he has already four thousand in arms upon the Tebicuari, under the command of his chere amie, Brigadier, Generaless Eliza Lynch, the spunky Irish woman who is said to be the real ruling spirit of the war, the management of which is virtually in the hands of her brothers, who manage all, as Lopez is represented to be a pompous incapable, who has a holy dread of bullets and steel. General Mrs. Lynch's head quarters are in the rear of the principal ford across the Tebicuari, the immediate defense of that pass being entrusted to Lieutenant Coloneless Margueriti Ferreira and Captainess Aniti Gill, with their commands of women, while a division under Coloneless Herreior is posted so as to attack in flank the invaders, which might perchance drive back Mmes. Ferreira and Gill. Women are also charged with the duty of guarding the country and forwarding supplies to the male camps, the principal one of which covers Villa Race, at which are Lopez's great internal arsenals. Thus the disputed story of the Amazonian nation living on the south side of the great river Amazon, is about to be realized upon the great river La Plata, and the world is going to see men and women pitted against each other by so-called civilized nations of South America.

HURRAH FOR THE FOURTH!—The Town Council having modified the Borough Ordinance in regard to Fire Works, so far as not to include the 4th of July, JOHN M MINNIGH has promptly ordered from the city a full supply of all kinds of Fire Works, Crackers, Torpedos, Rockets, &c. "Young America" had better get their change ready, to secure a supply, as the demand for them will of course be great. 1t

THE GREAT
CONOWAGO PHOSPHATE,
PREPARED BY
C. W. BENSON, M. D.,
LITTLESTOWN, PA.

THE Conowago Phosphate is destined to stand at the head of American Fertilizers. It has already proved its SUPERIOR QUALITIES and ample certificates of its high merits will soon be furnished to the public. The proprietors will spare no means or pains to make it a reliable and uniform article. It is superior to Peruvian Guano, because it is MORE LASTING IN ITS EFFECT and EQUAL TO IT ON THE FIRST CROP. It does not over-stimulate the soil, as most of the fertilizers in the market do, and leave the land after gathering the first crop in a worse condition than before using it, but it remains an active fertilizer in the soil, and continues year after year to show itself on every crop that is put in the land.

The Conowago Phosphate contains a large percentage of Ammonia and Phosphoric Acid, which are essential elements to vegetable food. They either enter directly into the plant or prepare the alkalies in the soil to do so. The base of the Conowago Phosphate is PURE RAW BONE, completely and thoroughly dissolved without the use of any volatile agent.

One of the great advantages of the Conowago Phosphate is that it will dissolve the sand in the soil and set the silica free to be absorbed by the growing plant which is a very important ingredient in giving firmness and strength to the stalk and grain. It will prevent the falling and lodging of crops that are forced up by a wet and warm season, and will greatly facilitate the ripening of the grain and secure it against the rust.

Agencies are being established throughout the country wherever fertilizers are sold. We are not afraid to place it beside the best in the country.

Let all the farmers and planters make up their minds that they will try the Great Conowago Phosphate this fall.

Price fifty Dollars per ton.

BENSON & MAUS, Proprietors.

☞The Conowago Phosphate is being made very fine, and thoroughly disintegrated, makes it convenient to use in the drills, and mixes more freely with the soil.—All farmers know the advantage of fine fertilizers.

HOFFMAN'S PATENT SELF-REGULATING

GRAIN SEPARATOR,

CLEANER AND BAGGER,

With the latest improved Triple-geared Horse Power, either Gear or Belt.

This machine has successfully competed with all the best of the different patented Grain Separators, and now has the reputation of being the best Separator ever produced; in fact, the only Separator and Cleaner ever before the public to give general satisfaction.

The machine is conveniently arranged for hauling and threshing, being permanently fixed on two wheels. One man can easily move or shift it about, so that it is not half the trouble on a barn floor as a common thresher and shaker. It is also easily put in operation. It is simple, easily managed, reliable, durable, compact and cleanly to work by while in operation, not making near the dust as the common machine or other Separators.

Farmers can rest assured that this machine is no humbug, and judging from the high recommendation of farmers that are using them we must come to the conclusion that it is the very machine that farmers want.

The following are a few of the persons who have used this machine, well known, and to whom the public are referred for further information:

Wm. J. Peters, Flora Dale, Adams co., Penna.
Wm. Kohler, near New Oxford "
John D. Pfoutz, Gettysburg "
Henry Harbold, York Springs "
Daniel Peters, Bendersville, "

Orders will be received by either of these gentlemen, as also by Robert and Hoover, East Berlin, Pa. For further information address

REAPERS AND MOWERS.

DODGES' PATENT

OHIO AND BUCKEYE,

E. BALL & COMPANY'S

WORLD'S REAPER & MOWER.

HAVING had considerable experience in the sale of Reaping and Mowing Machines in the last few years, I have made it a point to offer no machine to the farmer that will not when thoroughly tested give general satisfaction, and hence have declined the agency for all but what I regard the very best in the market. I now offer to the farmer the coming Season, two of what I consider the best machines in use.—Last season I sold thirty-five of the OHIO & BUCKEYE Patent which have given entire satisfaction. No machine has been returned, neither has there been any difficulty with any one to whom they were sold—all paying for their machines promptly. Certificates from those who have purchased could be procured but I deem it unnecessary—but for information would refer those wanting machines to any of the following gentlemen who purchased and have been using these machines:

Jacob Raffensperger,	Edward Wagoner,
Jacob Fidler,	Samuel Wagoner,
William Wert, Jr.,	John Brinkerhoff,
Benjamin Shelly,	William Bigham,
Newton Horner,	Rush Bigham,
Silas Horner,	Dr. Goldsborough,
John Herbst,	Henry Spangler,
Joseph Gelbaugh,	James Marshall,
Joseph Culbertson,	Frederick Peffer,
George Bushey,	Henry Weikert,
Daniel March,	Henry Butt,

This machine has been awarded medals and first Premiums by the Pennsylvania, Iowa and New York State Fairs, and by hundreds of County Fairs in all parts of the country, including the Adams County Fairs, having received the first Premium at Bendersville in the fall of 1866, and at Gettysburg in 1867, as the best on exhibition.

This machine has met with the most complete success. In every section where it has been introduced, it has taken precedence over machines which have heretofore ranked as first class. In compactness, lightness of draft, excellence and elegance of workmanship and finish, combined with great strength and adaptation to all kinds of work, it will surpass any machine heretofore offered to the farmer. The Self-Rake on this machine has been considerably improved in the last season, and is warranted to give general satisfaction or no sale.

THE WORLD'S MOWER AND REAPER,

This is an entire new machine, but judging from its construction and the testimonials it has received, it will be the leading machine. The gearing is cut out of solid from making every wheel and cog exact, fitting up close, and running as true as a clock, which makes the machine much lighter of draft, and no cutting of cogs or wear.—The gearing is all closed in a tight case the same as a watch, entirely excluding water, dirt, or grass, and indeed preventing everything that is calculated to prove injurious to the machinery. To oil, you simply open the lid when all the oiling places are exposed and conveniently oiled. The bars are all encased the same as the gearing and cut in the same way, and when once tightened down—there is no danger of working loose, as is the case with other machines. The Company do not hesitate in saying that this machine, with proper care, will last a man a life time. which is a matter every farmer should take into consideration, before buying at the present high prices of machines.

TESTIMONY OF REV. JACOB B. TROSTLE.

LINGANORE, FRED'K., CO., MD., April 22, 1868.

MR. WM. WIBLE:—Last year I purchased one of E. Ball's WORLD'S REAPERS, and used it last harvest in cutting my own Grain and Grass and some of my neighbors, and have no hesitation in saying that it gave me more satisfaction as a combined machine than any I have ever used, although I have tried some seven or eight other machines. I regard it the BEST machine in market, and do not hesitate to recommend it as such to any person wanting a first-class machine.

Yours, &c., J. D. TROSTLE.

I can also furnish BALL'S OHIO to those wishing that machine.

I can furnish these machines to suit farmers, and will sell as single Mowers or Combined Machines as Mowers—Self-Rake—Hand-Rake—Dropper—or Dropper and Hand Rake combined. I am also agent for BOPE'S DROPPER, which can be attached to any make of machine. Those having old machines on hand, and wishing a Dropper can be accommodated by sending in their orders early and naming the kind of machine to which they wish them to be attached. Price $30.

Sample machines can be seen at the residence of the subscriber, two miles from Gettysburg, on Harrisburg road, or at the Warehouse of COBEAN & BIGHAM, Gettysburg, Pa.

I also keep on hand

WIRE TOOTH HAY RAKES, STEEL PLOUGHS, FEED CUTTERS AND FARMING IMPLEMENTS GENERALLY.

Farmers would do well to examine my machinery before buying elsewhere as I keep nothing but the best.

Castings constantly on hand, and I have made arrangements to have repairing done in the best possible manner, at short notice and moderate charges.

J. H. SHIREMAN'S

REAPERS & MOWERS.

HAVING been agent for this machine last season, I again offer it to the farmer this season. It has taken the premium at the Bendersville Fair, and at the Gettysburg Mowing Match over seven others which were considered splendid machines, and likewise at the Dillsburg Mowing Match. Having [illegible] not to offer any machine that will not give entire satisfaction, I have refused agencies of several other machines, and now offer this one as

THE GREAT MACHINE OF THE SEASON.

Having tried one myself, I know exactly what it will do. I could refer you to scores of farmers who have purchased machines of me, who are highly pleased and say this is the machine they would use.

Extras always on hand, and repairing done here at my place. This is a great consideration—the machine can be repaired at home immediately, and with much less cost.

Another great saving is the BINDER which is attached to this celebrated Reaper and Mower. It has been thoroughly tried, and given entire satisfaction—requiring no harvest hand except a driver. This binder can also be attached to the Reapers which have been sold; but cannot be attached to any other machine except Shireman's.

I will here refer you to a few farmers, in different localities, who have bought and used these machines:

Michael Fiscel,	Stephen Gettier,
Moses Hartman,	Mr. Sterner,
Joseph Wierman,	Mr. Lady,
Ulrich Jacobs,	J. R. Hersh,
Jacob Hartman,	Rev. Weathers,
Jacob Lamen,

with others, too numerous to mention.

This machine has a [illegible] and is warranted to do its work as above recommended.

Also on hand, SHIREMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, a first-rate article, which we will sell at the lowest possible price and warrant to give satisfaction. Also the COLUMBIA RAKE always on hand.

Machines can be seen at my house, three miles south of Gettysburg, or at Mr. Conrad Snyder's Battlefield Hotel.

Real Estate Sales.

VALUABLE PROPERTY AT PRIVATE SALE.

The undersigned offers at Private Sale the Farm on which he now resides in Butler township, on the road leading from Bell's Mill to Middletown, about 2 miles from Arendtsville, adjoining lands of John, Hanes, Wm. Taylor, and others, and containing 100 ACRES, more or less. The Improvements consist of a two-story LOG WEATHERBOARDED DWELLING with a Kitchen attached, a good Frame Bank Barn, Carriage House, Shop and Spring House, and other outbuildings; a good well of water near the door, and a running Spring in the Spring House; a thriving Orchard of Apples and all kinds of choice fruit. The property is in good condition, the land in a fine state of cultivation, and the buildings in thorough repair—the dwelling being sufficiently large to accommodate two families. About 15 Acres are in good Meadow, and about 25 Acres in Timber. It lies on the Conowago. The location and surroundings make it a very desirable property.

Persons wishing to view the premises, or ascertain terms, will apply to the subscriber residing thereon.

"OUR OWN MAKE" of "UNION SKIRTS," [illegible] Trails, from 20 to 50 springs, $1.20 to $2.50. Plain, Six Tapes, 20 to 50 springs, from 95 Cents to [illegible]. These Skirts are better than those sold by other establishments as first class goods, and at much lower prices.

"OUR OWN MAKE" of "CHAMPION SKIRTS" are in every way superior to all other Hoop Skirts before the public, and only have to be examined or worn to convince every one of the fact. Manufactured of the best linen-finished English Steel Springs, very superior tapes, and the style of the metalic fastenings and manner of securing them surpass for durability and excellence any other Skirt in this country, and are lighter, more elastic, will wear longer, give more satisfaction, and are really cheaper than all others. Every lady should try them. They are being sold extensively by Merchants throughout this and the adjoining states at very moderate prices. If you want the best, ask for Hopkins' Champion Skirt. If you do not find them, get the merchant with whom you deal to order them for you, or come or send direct to us. Merchants will find our different grades of Skirts exactly what they need, and we especially invite them to call and examine our extensive assortment, or send for Wholesale Price List.

To be had at Retail at Manufactory, and of the Retail Trade generally, and at Wholesale of the Manufacturer only, to whom all orders should be addressed.

INFORMATION FOR [illegible]

[illegible]

MRS. SARAH E. CLARFIELD,
June 10—3m Box 66, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Farmer and Housekeeper.

[For the Star and Sentinel.

It would be a good idea for our agricultural society to set apart an afternoon or evening during the fair for farmers and fruit growers to meet to discuss the relative merit of different kinds of fruit. Each county and even limited sections have a pomology peculiarly its own and such meeting would assist us very materially to plant kinds best suited to different sections. We are not wanting in men roughout the county who are good authority in matters connected with the growing of hardy fruit, yet the more thorough diffusion of such knowledge is much needed.

The careless manner in which many farmers select seed and more particularly seed of our cereals has the effect to lessen the yield to an extent beyond the belief of such. The fact that wheat rakings are as good as any for seed have the proof in the good crop that may follow: yet such choosing seed has also proved beyond a doubt that varieties have deteriorated so rapidly that they had to be abandoned in a few years after their introduction. The best and earliest spots should be chosen and left ripen well, and when threshed should be well cleaned leaving the large perfect grains for sowing; frequent change of seed from a distance is desirable. Such a course will not only keep up the standard of a variety, but has in many instances greatly improved it. C.

STICK TO THE FARM.

Let us sing a snatch from this good old song. Yes, stick to the farm. If half the time and energy now wasted in politics, hazardous speculations, and busy idleness, were spent in the advancement of agriculture—if the people were as intent on preserving their farms from deterioration, as they are in "preserving the Union," and settling the manifold vexed questions of the day; if they were half as earnest in battling with briers and weeds, and poor fences and bad soils, as with their political opponents, should we not be better off as a nation and as individuals?

Why is England to-day the garden of Europe, unless it is because every acre is so widely cultivated? Why is even barren New England made so productive, unless because of the industry and intelligence of her agriculturists? Well has one said: "The fields ought to be the morning and evening theme of all Americans who love their country. To fertilize and improve their farm, ought to be the prime temporal object of every owner of substantial soil. All national aggrandizements, power and wealth may be traced to agriculture as its ultimate source.—Commerce and agriculture are only subordinate results of this main spring.—We consider agriculture as every way subsidiary not only to abundance, industry, comfort and health, but to good morals, and ultimately even to religion itself." We shall always sing, "Speed the plough!" We shall always regard the American farmer, dressed for his employment, and tilling his grounds, as belonging to the order of real noblemen."

SAVE YOUR PLUMS.—I have had some experience in the raising of plums. In my former efforts, when I let them take care of themselves, my trees produced nothing but a crop of worms and disappointment. But for the last three years I have succeeded in raising as fine and full a crop of plums as could be desired. My treatment was this: In the spring, as soon as the blossoms began to fall from the fruit, I prepared a large sheet-iron on which were placed a few chips or any thing that would burn readily, and after they had commenced burning freely, smothered the blaze down with grass, which produced a dense smoke. This I would carry around under the trees, and perfectly befog the entire top, every branch, with smoke. I made this application of smoke each evening and morning, and continued it until about the first of July. Fresh grass should be frequently added, so as to continue a heavy volume of smoke.

I think the advantage derived from the smoke is from the coating which it deposits upon the fruit, leaves and branches, and producing a scent which is offensive to such insects as are wont to prey upon the young fruit. But whatever the effect of smoke may be, it has been a successful protection to the fruit during my three years' experiment. I always gave my trees a thorough smoking; I doubt the success of homeopathic treatment in such cases.—F. Malay.

WASHING STEMS OF FRUIT TREES.—The bark of fruit trees lives for several years. In the apple we do not know exactly, but we believe about six years.—Annually a new bark is formed next the wood, and consequently the outside bark of a six year old tree was formed six years before. After six years (about this,) the bark dies and forms what is called rough bark, and this rough or dead bark remains on many years, getting thicker from the under side, with each year's accumulations.

Writers on tree-washes make no distinction between the different stages—hence apparent contradictions are common, which the reader cannot reconcile. For instance, a correspondent of the Canada Farmer says he nearly ruined his orchard by washing the trees with soap suds as strong as he could make it, and putting on about half a pailful to the tree, and a neighbor killed his trees entirely by putting soap grease upon them to keep [illegible] from gnawing the bark.

[illegible] was no doubt put on young, [illegible] live bark, which it would no [illegible]. He who had recommended it had no doubt tried it on old trees with rough bark, to which it would be a benefit. These little facts show how necessary it is that one should know the reason as well as the rules.—T. Meehan.

CERTAIN CURE FOR FOUNDER.—As soon as you discover that the horse is foundered, take him to the nearest branch or stream of water, and tie him in it, standing in the water nearly up to his belly—his head being so high that he cannot drink. If the weather is warm, [illegible] in the stream several hours; [illegible] him out, rub his legs thoroughly [illegible] circulation, and again tie [illegible] if he is still lame. By [illegible] two or three times, [illegible] usually cured. If [illegible] the horse is [illegible] winter, [illegible] stand in [illegible] [illegible] Don't be [illegible] by it.—Rural World.

THE GREAT CHOLERA PREVENTATIVE.

I,
X. 1866. L.

THE GREAT

Zingari Bitters.

THIS WONDERFUL REMEDY was discovered and introduced about twenty years ago by Dr. S. Cheopsus, an eminent Egyptian physician.

He had long seen and felt the want of some remedy which would strike at the root of disease, and so prevent much of the suffering which the human family was then compelled to endure.

This great question was presented to his mind every day in vivid colors as he moved among the sick and dying, and observed the inefficiency of nearly all the remedies then in use. Thus he was led to think and experiment; and after ten years' study and labor, he presented to his fellow-man the wonderful Zingari Bitters. The effect of this preparation in the prevention and cure of disease, was so marvellous and astonishing, that the most flattering marks of royal favor were bestowed upon him who discovered it. His name was placed upon the Roll of Nobles, and a gold medal with the following inscription —Dr. S. Cheopsus, the Public Benefactor—was presented to him by the Viceroy.

The preparation has been used in several epidemics of cholera, both as a preventive and curative measure, and with such great success, that it has been introduced into nearly all the general hospitals of the old world.

The old saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, applies with marvellous force to cholera, and therefore any remedy that will protect us against his terrible disease should be freely and persistently used.

All pathologists now agree that the cholera poison acts on the system through the blood, and that any combination which acts on the excretory organs, and keeps them in working order, must prevent a sufficient accumulation of the poison to exert its terrible effects on the organism This is true not only of cholera, but of nearly all other maladies, especially the different forms of fever.

The Zingari Bitters is just such a remedy as the above conditions require. It acts on the organs of excretion and secretion, keeping up a perfect balance between them. This Bitters is composed entirely of roots and herbs, so nicely concocted that every organ is acted upon and put in tone. Its taste is pleasant and its effects prompt and lasting.

Numerous cases of the following diseases have been cured by it: Cholera, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Scrofula, Typhoid and Typhus Fever, Fever, Ague, Nervous Debility, Anaemia, Female Irregularities, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Colic, &c.
